In response to a congressional request, GAO described Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) efforts in six states to delegate the operational responsibilities of the Prevention of Significant Deterioration Program (PSD) established by the Clean Air Act to state agencies. GAO found that the EPA review process before delegation provided EPA adequate information to make its delegation decisions. Further, GAO found no significant differences in levels of effort between EPA and the states in carrying out their PSD activities. GAO found that state agencies had placed about the same or more emphasis on preconstruction review processing steps than had the EPA regions. In addition, two states took significantly less time than EPA to complete their preconstruction reviews and issue their PSD permits. Further, EPA periodically reviews a sample of the states PSD application and permit files and inspects some of the operating PSD sources to measure each state agency's performance. GAO found that those mechanisms afford EPA ample opportunity to monitor the state agencies after PSD delegation. However, two of the three EPA regions GAO reviewed had not updated their Compliance Data System, which was designed to assist them in their oversight activities. As a result, the status of air pollution control activities in those regions was not current. This item ships...
